CMMI, ISO 9001 & TickIT Certification

In 1999, PowerSoft became the first company in Cyprus to earn TickIT certification.

The TickIT certification program was created by the British Standards Institution for companies in the software development and computer industries. Its general objective is to improve software quality.

Software development organizations seeking TickIT Certification are required to show conformity with ISO9000.

Major objective was to provide industry with a practical framework for the management of software development quality by developing more effective quality management system certification procedures and enables you to optimize your software development and support operation by reducing malfunctions, late deliveries and unexpectedly high maintenance costs.

Certifications

On June 13, 2013, Powersoft earned the certification of CMMI and became the first and the only Cyprus Company which has earned this certification.

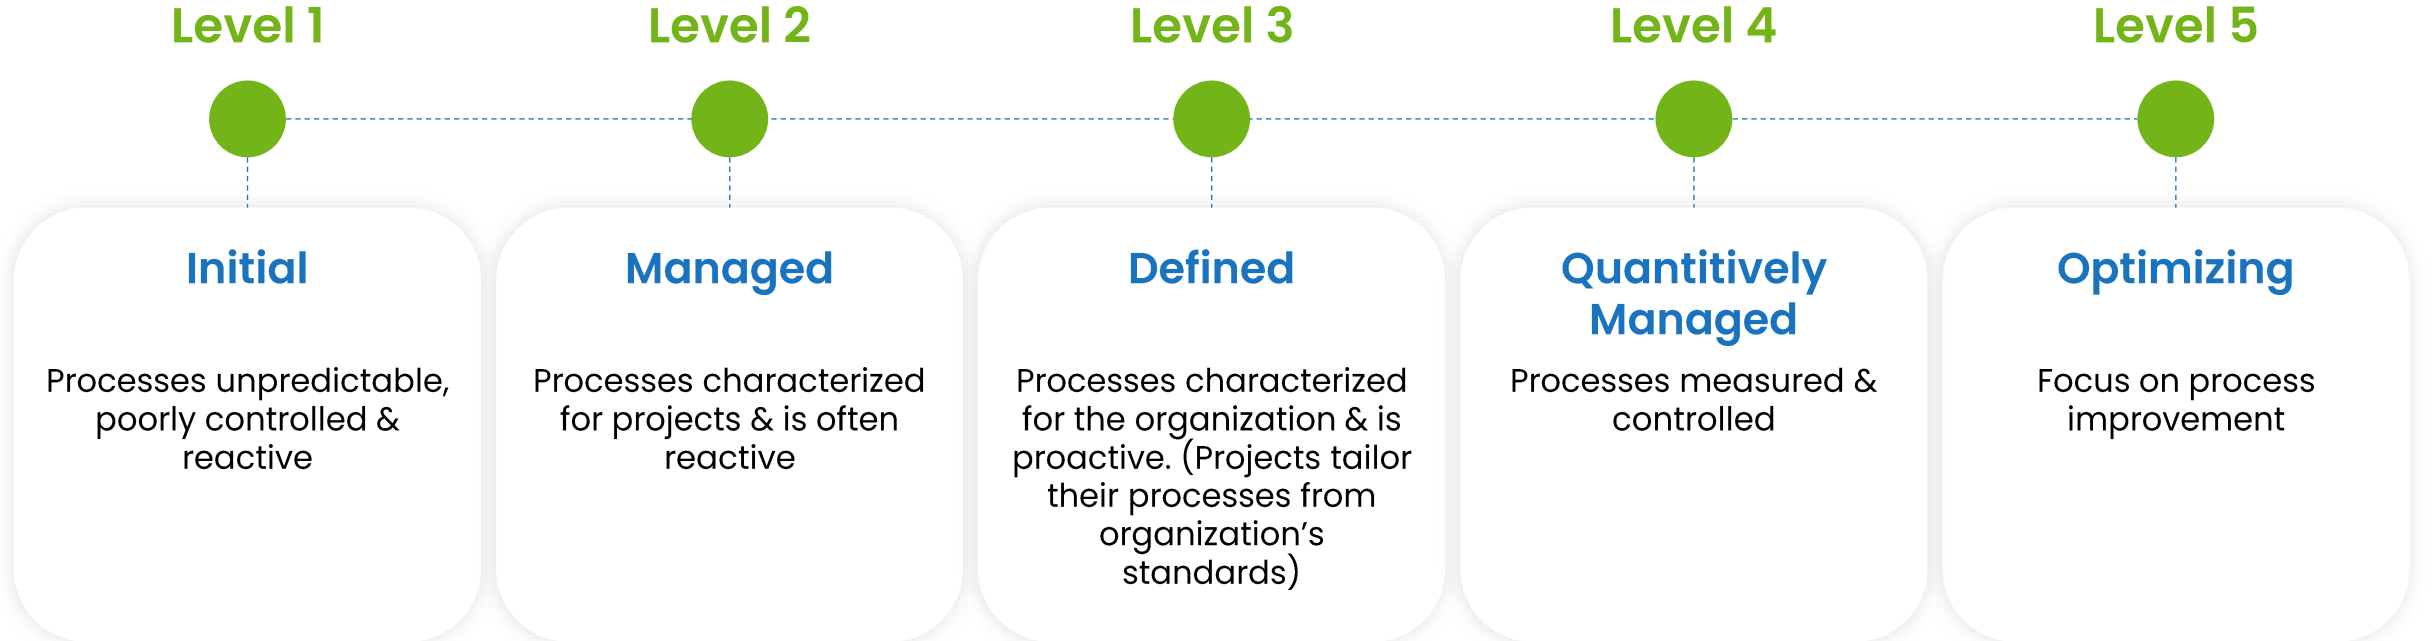

The Capability Maturity Model (CMM) is a methodology used to develop and refine an organization's Software Development process. The model describes a five-level evolutionary path of increasingly organized and systematically more mature processes.

The main difference between CMMI and ISO 9001 lies in their respective purposes: ISO 9001 specifies a minimal acceptable quality level for software processes, while CMMI establishes a framework for continuous process improvement. It is more explicit than the ISO standard in defining the means to be employed to that end.
